GREATER PALM SPRINGS

The Paloma Resort Opening in Summer 2022

The Paloma Resort, a full-service boutique resort hotel located just south of downtown Palm Springs, is opening in summer 2022. The Paloma is a partnership between the property developers, local restaurateur Chad Gardner, and Tim and Amy Brinkman – the power couple behind LIT hospitality group. Featuring 66 modernist bungalows and suites, the resort juxtaposes mid-century architecture against the property's central feature, a mission-style Adobe built in the 1930s. Palm Springs hospitality icon Chad Gardner is the culinary force behind The Paloma's indoor/outdoor restaurant, Sol y Sombra, a tapas-style spot housed in the poolside Adobe. Gardner tapped the desert's agricultural roots as inspiration for Sol y Sombra, incorporating local ingredients like dates, grapefruit and chilis into its menu of shareable small plates and signature drinks. Known for their Palm Canyon spa, Grounded Bodyworks brought their signature wellness offerings to The Paloma Resort with the opening of their second location, Grounded at The Paloma.

LOS ANGELES

Upscale Izakaya-inspired Restaurant n/soto Opened in April 2022

Chef/Owners Niki Nakayama and Carole Iida-Nakayama of n/naka presented their first new concept in over a decade, n/soto, in April 2022 in the West Adams neighborhood of Los Angeles. n/soto is an izakaya-inspired Japanese restaurant dictated by the seasons of California. Translating to “outside” in Japanese, “soto” refers both to the pandemic during which the restaurant was born that closed people off from the outside world, as well as the menu’s exploration of Japanese cuisine as interpreted throughout Los Angeles. n/soto upholds the technique and tradition of its sister restaurant n/naka, with a renewed sense of curiosity, collaboration, and experimentation in a relaxed and casual setting. Helmed by Executive Chef Yoji Tajima with beverages managed by Jason Lee, n/soto will offer a rotating selection of dishes reflecting the seasons of California meant to be shared with family and friends.

Thoughtfully designed with the Bay Area community by James Corner Field Operations (the firm behind New York’s High Line) and funded by philanthropic gifts, the Presidio Tunnel Tops will feature scenic overlooks with stunning views of the Golden Gate Bridge and the city, trails, picnic areas, gathering spaces, and gardens and meadows with 180 varieties of native plants. The Outpost – a two-acre nature play area – features play structures that reflect elements of the Presidio and are built from fallen tree trunks, boulders, and other natural materials. The Transit Center and Visitor Center make the site accessible and welcoming, and new food options, a pavilion and a campfire circle are located nearby. The renovated Crissy Field Center and new Field Station will help engage people of all ages with activities.

New Transit and Accessibility for Morgan Hill

The City of Morgan Hill, in partnership with RideCo, will operate a new on-demand, citywide microtransit system beginning summer 2022. Residents and visitors will be able to book rides from one hundred virtual stops to any other, to facilitate multimodal trips in and out of the city. Virtual stops will be within a 5 minute walk from any point in the city and at highly visited amenities. The service hours will be Monday through Saturday with extremely reasonable fares. The service provides low-density area mobility, first and last mile service, and paratransit through RideCo's app-based booking system, scheduling, and vehicle itineraries. Additionally, RideCo will operate a call center to allow riders to alternatively book by phone, including Spanish speakers. This service makes Morgan Hill even more connected and accessible and provides an alternative to single rider auto trips.

These tours range in duration from 2 hours to full day experiences. Jeep riders can customize any of the following itineraries: City Tours, Evening & Sunset Tours, Muir Giant Redwoods and Sausalito Tours, and Full Day Muir Woods and City Tours.
